Please note that this product has varying directions of grain that cannot be controlled. As a result of this branding may appear to look in slight different positions even if it is centralised on every product.

---

Bamboo is a natural product, the sugar cane within bamboo controls the darkness of engraving. As it is natural the level of sugar cane can vary causing the engraving colour to be different through the order. Please note every piece will be different. The below examples show how the engraving colour can vary on each logo.
